

MAISON TÓUKKANI

TRADE PROGRAM

MAISON Trade Collective

We're opening our atelier to designers, architects, and concept stores who share our appreciation for honest, considered craft.

Every rug we weave starts as a conversation between two places: Swiss design discipline on one side, generations of Moroccan weaving skill on the other. Partnering with us means more than sourcing a beautiful piece. You get our full attention at every stage, from material sourcing and quality checks throughout production to careful finishing and packaging built to travel the world intact.

That's the thinking behind the Maison Trade Collective: a program built for the professionals who keep coming back, project after project. We reward that loyalty with preferred pricing, dedicated support, and the kind of behind-the-scenes access that makes your job easier.

Sourcing for a private home, a boutique hospitality project, or a gallery installation? The Maison Trade Collective puts you in a circle where craftsmanship, trust, and creative ambition move in the same direction.

"Infuse every space you create with depth, intention, and the quiet strength of enduring craftsmanship."
